Golf Club Information

(18 holes of Links Golf: Course length 6,423 yards, Par 72, CSS 72)

In 2013, Newburgh-on-Ythan Golf Club celebrated its 125th anniversary since golf was first played on the Udney links as a nine hole course in 1888.

Also in 2013, the golf club received several worthy accolades from Golf World Magazine as follows:

- ⦿ Ranked 6th best course in Aberdeenshire
- ⦿ Rated the 68th best course in their Top 100 Scottish courses
- ⦿ Ranked 32nd in their Top 100 Fun courses for the whole of Great Britain & Ireland

The outward nine is characterised by natural hills and undulations requiring a range of shot-making in accordance with traditional gorse lined golf course. The inward nine demands accurate play from tee to green and is the epitome of a typical Scottish Links course noted for its magnificent setting and superb greens. We have the most amazing scenery with views over the Ythan River, with the dunes of the Forvie Nature Reserve in the background. From the high point on the front nine which is the ninth tee, the views of the clubhouse with Newburgh Village in the background are spectacular. It is also possible to see the North Sea and watch the ships heading towards and away from Aberdeen Harbour.

What a great place to come and play golf away from the hustle and bustle of business life. We are situated on the same coastline as, and sandwiched between, Trump International Golf Links and Cruden Bay Golf Club. We are a small friendly club and can offer a great round of challenging golf and a relaxing environment for post-round refreshments in our bar and restaurant area.

Our large male membership includes a very active Seniors Section. We have a thriving Ladies section along with a large number of both Social and Luncheon Members.

There is also an additional Six Hole Course, all Par 3's with practice facilities situated on the site.
